

PATENTS & INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Anti Bio Technologies Pty Ltd is an industry leader in the technology of Sweeping Sound Frequencies. Patents have been obtained which further support our status as a pioneer of this technology. Those patents include the following:

- 💧 International Application PCT/AU 98/00364
- 💧 International Application PCT/AU 93/00482

Over the years, there have been many attempts to copy, sabotage, and reinvent our technology with little or no success.

As a result, we have had to take extraordinary measures to protect our intellectual property from pirating. Our systems now incorporate tamper proofing so that any attempts to retrieve installed intellectual property result in system shut down until reconfigured by authorised Anti Bio Technologies personnel.

We make every effort to protect our proprietary information in order to look after the interests of our distributors and their exclusive territories, our investors, and our own personnel. This is to ensure the long term success of the company.
